LEAD THE LEAGUE

TWO NOTABLE VICTORIES OVER THE COLUMBUS TEAM.

Immense Crowd of Fans Witness the Defeat of the Ohio Wanderers-St. Paul Makes It Three Straight From the Hoosiers.

The Kansas City "rooter" is feeling pretty well this morning. His favorites are in first place at last with a fighting chance for finishing the season one, two, three. It was a long pull, a hard pull and a pull all together that accomplished the result, but it came eventually, thanks to St. Paul, who trounced the Indians three days in succession. But the Blues have also been in the trouncing business, and the double-header won from Columbus yesterday was the final step on the journey to first position.

The Blues have reached the top rung of the ladder of the Western League by good. success. In their grand struggle for preeminence they have at no time forgotten for a moment the city which they represent and have conducted themselves in such a manner, both on and off the field, as to merit their reputation of being the

ing. President James H. Manning realized the deficiencies, and he spared no money or pains to bring about perfection. It i due entirely to his foresight and good judg ment that the city is represented to-day by a team which leads the league.

Wilson a Tower of Strength.

It was evident early in the season that one of the crying needs of the club was an experienced catcher, one who would not only steady the team, but also one who would be able to coach the excellent young pitchers who needed a wise head to con trol them. Parke Wilson was secured from the New York club, and as a result of his efforts, the entire staff of pitchers belonging to the team have made the won derful individual records of winning more games than they have lost. Not only has Wilson been of invaluable assistance to the pitchers, but he has infused team work into the club, and there is hardly a day passes but what the great catcher gives ome exposition of the finer points of the many other teams in the league, but this is due largely to the fact that every man of them tries for everything that comes anywhere near them, and there is not a member of the team who may be called a record player. The harmony that prevails in the ranks is also one of the factors that have led to the success of the team. After last year's experience, Manager Manning made up his mind to never again tolerate his most valuable man if he found that he was sowing discord among his players.

The team is in good shape, and there is hold the lead and eventually land the pennant. They have been lucky so far this season in the fact that no member of the team has been injured, and at the present time there is not a better bunch of athletes in the country than the baseball team which represents this city. To their physical perfection is added that never-say-die spirit that has carried them through so many hard fought battles this season, and which they have striven so hard to reach the team that will supplant them must play a phenomenal game of ball. The city s proud of its baseball team.

A magnificent assemblage of 5,000 people was on hand and cheered the Biues on to victory. The crowd of men and women packed and jammed the grand stand and thronged the bleachers. All of them had come to see the Blues advance to first po-sition and to lend them all the assistance possible. All the enthusiasm which for several years past had been allowed to remain unspent, but which had waited for just such an opportunity as this, burst forth in the wildest demonstrations. There was a round of applause for every stockinged player as he came to bat. A basehit merited loud cheering by the men and clapping of hands by the women, while the Blues was the signal for the crowd to rise to its feet and indulge in the joice. No stronger evidence of the great interest taken in the national sport could be asked than the spirit manifested by the people. Everybody had hoped-feared. Nov everybody rejoiced and piedged to lend every effort to help and encourage the team which has fought its way pluckily to

Start Not Auspicious.

There was nothing in the start of either game to cause fans to become very sanguine, but as each contest progressed it became plainly evident that the Blues held the cards and that they were sure to win. the cards and that they were sure to win. A collection of glaring errors, contributed by members of both teams, marred the brilliamcy of the first game, but the second was a wonderfully pretty exhibition. Both sides played fast, snappy ball—the kind that people like to se. For four inning mobody scored but in the lifth Dale Gear broke the spell, and, by following Vlox single with a slashing twobagger, sent in the first run. The Senators gave a similar performance in their half of the sixth, and with one wore to the credit of each team, the result was still in doubt. In the seventh inning Bumpus Jones was touched up in with one store to the credit of each cannibe result was still in doubt. In the seventh inning Bumpus Jones was touched up in lively fashion and the Blues secured a lead which they held to the end.

About the time that the second game was begun the Indianapolis-St. Paul teams came together for their contest. As each inning at St. Paul was completed the news was sent to Kansas City and within a moment after the reports were received in the press stand they were flashed on the bulletin boards in plain view of everybody on the grounds. Kansas City had won one game and advanced a notch nearer first place when the St. Paul contest was started. Three innings of the second home game had been played and honors were easy, when the result of the first inning at St. Paul was announced and the Indians were one run to the good. The people still hoped for the best.

The home game proceeded, and at the

est. home game proceeded, and at the The home game proceeded, and at the commencement of the seventh each team had one score. The Bines had secured one more run, two men had been retired and two others had beaten their way safely to first, when the report came from St. Paul that Comiskey's men had scored three runs, and the Indiana champions were two runs, and the inductal champions were two behind. The people leaped to their feet and cheered as they had cheered the bul-letin of a war victory. Frisbee was given the glad hand as he came to the plate. The left fielder glanced at the bulletin, smacked his willow and slammed the ball for three bags and two more runs, cinching the Fellred and Kansas City had two more games to her credit. Frank Cook's megaphone voice announced to the crowd that the telepraph operators would remain on the grounds until the completion of the St. Paul game, and hundreds of the people waited for the final message. When at last it came and announcement was made of the dethronement of the Brush Farmers the crowd broke out in one last shout of joy, and only second to the affection in which they held Manning's pets was the good will they had for Comiskey's Saints.

The First Game.

"Rip" Eagan and Dr. Wolters guided the destinies of their respective teams in the opening contest and "Rip" did by far the better steering. For a few innings the Senators found him with comparative ease, but after the fourth he was a puzzle to the Ohio wanderers. Wolters was hit hard and often and by combining singles and doubles with encouraging frequency the Blues succeeded in beating out the victory by the time the game was only half over, and holding it intact with compartive ease until the finish.

A large assortment of well developed and juicy errors was contributed by the representatives of both aggregations, each supplying the opposing team with temporary advantage at several different stages of the game. Neither side was much more generous than the other in its gifts of this character, however, and the Blues won the game because they deserved it, and because Wolters was an easier proposition than the twirler whom the Senators faced.

The visitors furnished the prettiest feature of the game, a triple play, in which Hulen and Tebeau participated. In the fourth inning Slagle was on second and Frishee on first when Connaughton sent a swift drive to Hulen. Both runners had lead off from their bases and Hulen, who caught the ball, touched off Slagle and threw to first in time to retire Frishee.

Columbus scored one run in the first inning, Genins getting a good start on Williams' bad throw to first. Wolverton singled, but was retired at second when Tebeau hit to Connaghton, Genins going to third. Eagan threw over O'Hagan's head in trying to catch Tebeau off first and Genins was given passage home. In the second, Lally hit to left field for two bases, and singles by Knoll and Wolvers aided him in scoring. Lally scored again in the fourth after gaining first on a fielder's choice play. MeVicker failing to head off Frank's hit to right and allowing a single to develop into a double.

The Blues scored a pair in their first time up. Slagle took first on Wolverton's fumble, but was caught when he tried to steal most gentlemanly team in the entire league. They have demonstrated the fact that games can be won without resorting to disorderly tactics, and wherever they have gone their style of play has received the commendation of the people and the press.

Starting out the season with a team which was largely composed of unknown quantities, it has strengthened and developed with a remarkably small number of changes, into one of the most evenly balanced and strongest nines that ever represented the city. In the beginning its play was crude, and the magnificent team work which has become one of its most marked characteristics, was entirely lacking. President James H. Manning realized the deficiencies, and he spared no money

Brilliant work marked the playing of both teams in the second game, and, up to the seventh inning, when the Blues secured a ead the visitors were unable to overcome the struggle was most exciting. Dale Gear was in fine form, and in addition to keeping hits well scattered, took a hand in the batting business, bringing in a scoring with a timely double and making one of the runs himself. For four innings each side was blanked and then, after Viox had singled, Gear sent the ball against the left field fence for the first score of the same.

Two innings later the Blues opened fire on Bumpus and added four more runs to their column. McVicker started the ball rolling by hitting into left for a sack. Vlox' grounder was not handled cleanly by Genwhen Gear hit to the same territory. Slagle singled. Frisbee smashed the ball along the right field line for three sacks and Connaughton planked the leather to center for a bag, the combination allowing a quartette of the Blues to round the entire KANSAS CITY.

Baseball Notes.

Come of 3:45 Ah! there. Stay there. St. Joseph comes to-day. Eight straight victories! Meredith will pitch for the Blues to-day.

All of the home players had some field work to do in the first game. In numbers and enthusiasm the crowd yesterday resembled a Fourth of July assemblage.
Wolverton had all kinds of work to do in the first game. He accepted seven chances and made one error.
McVicker did some great stick work. In the first game he made two doubles, each ime when there were two men on bases. Wilson did some great batting in the first rame. He made four hits in five times up. In the second game he did not once land Frishee did not get a hit in the first game but made three in the second. His triple in the seventh inning, when two men were on bases, was a beauty.

Yesterday's games completed the second straight series the Blues have taken from helr visitors since coming home two weeks igo. Both Detroit and Columbus were

ago. Both Detroit and Columbus were shut out without a game. When neither side had scored in the second game yesterday. Dale Gear came in in the fifth inning to win his own game, Viox was on first and Gear drove a slasher to the left field fence for two bags and a

For the most part Umpire Sheridan has given far better satisfaction than either Mannassau or Cantillion, but he made some great errors yesterday. In the first inning he once called O'Hagan out at first when Tebeau was not near the bag.

Yesterday's triple play was the first made on the home grounds this year, Hulen and Tebeau were the participants. Hulen caught Connaughton's drive in the fourth inning, touched out Slagle, who had run off the bag, and fired to Tebeau, who retired Frisbee, who also had led off. The drive looked like a safe one when it left Connaughton's bat.

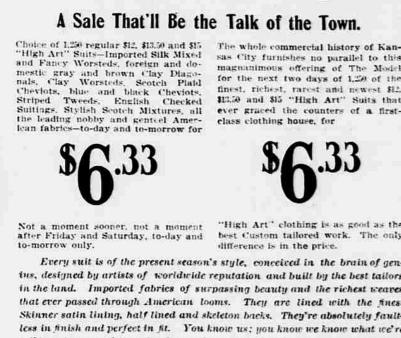

John Duffy Dying.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4.—John Duffy, professor of boxing, and one of the best known referees in America, is dying of consumption in this city. Among the more famous tights that Duffy refereed were the following: Corbett and Sullivan, Meyer and Carroll, McAuliffe and Meyer and Fitz-simmons fights with Maher, Hall, Creedon and Dempsey in this city.

INDIANA FURNISHES A BIG SURPRISE AT COLUMBUS.

Horse That Was Not Considered in the Betting Won Every Heat and One Man Lost $6,000-Other Results.

COLUMBUS. O. Aug. 4.—The track at the Columbus Driving park was heavy to-day as a result of recent rains, but very fair time was made in the three races run in the mud. The 2:11 pace furnished the sensation of the day. Charlie B. was backed by Hubinger to win this race, and it is said his losses aggregate $6,000. In the pools, Charlie B. first brought $225 to $369 to the field, and Hubinger's nervy betting soon forced the field down to $190. It is said the pools on this race amounted to $25,000. The sensation was furnished when Indiana, a horse that was never consistered, won the race in straight heats. Indiana, a horse that was never consistered, won the race in straight heats. Indiana has speed but is a bad actor. The mud just suited him, however, and he paced without a break, never being in danger. The best Charlie B. could do was to take fourth place. Murphy is said to have been a big winner in the pools.

The favorites won in both the other races. Directum Kelly lost the second heat of the 2:24 trot by a break, but did not again disappoint his backers. Split Silk also but won easily.

An effort is to be made to finish the programme Friday and Saturday. Owing to the condition of the track, Star Pointer will not go against the track record until Saturday. Summaries:
